heard it on the GLOMSKI GRAPEVINE

By Eric Glomski, Founder & Director of Winegrowing

I posed the “What Makes Wine Special” question to our cast of writers for this PSC Newsletter issue and I received (maybe slightly surprised) what I guess I should have expected: “Isn’t that what we always write about!?” Well...yes, but not in a pointed, focused way.

I don’t think we think about it enough. I don’t think we talk about it enough and I don’t feel we share it enough. In fact, I think many of us “Wine Geeks” as Peter K would affectionately refer to us, assume (that ass word) that folks, across generations, get it. Well, I am here to say...

Vineyard Romance By Gayle Glomski, Vineyard Coordinator

Visiting AZ Wilderness Beer Company, I see staff cooking and serving their guests and I know that they have more teams working behind the scenes to keep the wheels in motion. Their production team opens bags of well sourced ingredients and creates a diverse menu of beers on their timeline. It can get hot and steamy in the brewhouse and requires a good amount of muscle. A different team is in charge of canning...

Wine Market Turmoil

By Rod Young, Resident Economist

The wine market is shrinking. US wine production tumbled from a peak of 375 million cases in 2017 to 320 million cases in 2024, following consumption downward. A further drop undoubtedly occurred in 2025, based on recent reports, although the drop likely slowed due to substitution for imports...

Wine is a Channel

By Cadyn Ray, Tours Manager

When I began to ponder this question and how it relates to what I do here at the winery, I imagined guiding a tour and pouring something other than wine and what that would be like. For example, what if I poured shots of different house made Vodkas on our stroll through this lovely place on earth? I immediately...

One Q, Multiple A

By Peter Kasperski, longtime PSC friend

The question Eric posed: “Why is Wine special?” Then, he immediately backpedaled, adding “As compared to other alcoholic beverages... or at least most.” To be fair, the man knows his audience. I have long considered myself an equal opportunity imbiber. Gun to the head (I’d say soda gun, but I avoid...
